PREFACE AND INTRODUCTION.

In May, 1896, I set out with a determination to write a genealogy of our line of the Hart family. I first visited my living uncle, Philip D. Hart of Wakefield, Mass., whom I had not seen for 46 years. I found him on a sick bed, from which he never recovered, dying soon after. From him I learned a tradition that money was left in Boston, Mass., for the early Hart ancestors. This of course created an incentive to know the thorough genealogy of the family. I also learned traditions from several others, which serve to connect these lines back to the ancestor, Samuel Hartt. I visited the county registry of probate and deed records, which show where each of the Hart families lived. I went to each town and got copies of all vital records, head stones, and church records in the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island. I also visited historical libraries, etc. Information obtained from hundreds of family Bible is also used and with the assistance of living descendants, I have made up a first-class genealogy, of nine men by the name of Hart, early settlers in America, which has taken six years of continual work and correspondence. It will be observed that from two to four generations ago some of the boys are missing. They may have gone to sea and been lost. Descendants of such are requested to send to the undersigned complete information concerning them up to date, as I may reprint this book. Let postage stamps accompany inquiries. Hoping that this book will prove satisfactory to all descendants, I remain,

Most respectfully,

JAMES M. HART, Manchester, N. H.

Now at Pasadena, Cal., the land of sunshine and flowers. September 28, 1903.

[NOTE.—As I have spent six years of time, gathering data and compiling this book, and have been to great expense, I hope some wealthy descendant will make me a present of five thousand dollars or less,—a small present will be thankfully received.]

HART MEMORIAL.

Genealogy of Samuell Hartt of Lynn, Mass., from London, England, 1640.

An effort was made to find his ancestry without avail. In the gleanings in England by Henry Waters, Vol. 2, page 1397, was found a sketch of the will of William Harte, of the parish of St. Thomas the Apostle, London, England, merchant tailor, 17th of May, 1632, and proved the 31st of May, 1632:

"To my wife Mary; to my eldest son John Hartt, provided for in lands; to my daughter Margaret Hartt; my wife shall have the bringing up of my said children; to my uncle Edmund Wilson, doctor of physic; to my cousin Mr. Richard Warwick; to every one of the children of my brothers Richard and Thomas Hartt (children's names not given); to the parish of Bove Tracy in Devonshire where I was born; to my brother Richard Hartt, and my cousin Francis Southcott, gent., of same parish; to my uncle William Taylor, dwelling in Pater Noster Row, London, England. Signed, William Harte."

The following may have been sons of the three, William, Richard, and Thomas Hartt, mentioned in the will: Samuel Hartt, John Harte, and Nicholas Hart; all three came from London, England, about 1631 to 1642, and may have been brothers or cousins.

In a deposition, sworn to by Samuel Hartt, at Lynn, Mass., "ye 27th of October, 1653," he called himself 31 years of age, and said he was sent over by the London, England, Iron Company "to their Iron Works, Lynn, Mass., the year 1640." This is from the Lynn (Mass.) History, page 227. This history was written in 1865 by Alonzo Lewis and James R. Newhall:

"Edmund Needham of Lynn, Mass., came from Hamstead, in the county of Middlesex, England. In his will dated at Lynn, Mass., the 16th day of June, 1677, and probated June 29, 1677, at Salem, Mass, he mentions children thus (a sketch only): Daniel Needham, Ezekiel Needham, and a daughter, Hannah Diven and her children, etc. Next I give to my son in Law Samuell Hartt's children, first to his dafter in Law Mrs. Elizabeth Chadwell, one yo sheep. [This Elizabeth Chadwell was a daughter of Mary Needham by her first husband, a Mr. How.] Next I give to Samuel Hartt's son, Samuel Hartt, one cow and one yo sheep, not to exceed four years old. Next I give Joseph Hartt one yo sheep. Next to Abigail Hartt one yo sheep and thirty Shillings more in goods and Lawful money for her great care of me in my last sickness beside the Pay yet I shall give her for Ye time she hath staid with me. Next to his dafter Rebeccak Hartt one yo sheep."

Next, Mr. Needham mentions his son-in-law Joseph Mansfield's children. John Mansfield, about 15 years old, Elizabeth Mansfield, and Deborah Mansfield, etc.; and appraises his estate about £1,090, and "Debts in old England in Sufficient bonds, and most able men's hands, as the Company of Merchants Adventurers, and another looked at as a great rich cittizen fit for an Aderman of London, though they do what they can to decease us [dispossess us], that is to say my Brothers and sisters to whome they owe us above 3,000 Pounds. But for this debt in Old England my two Brothers may gett for mee, and themselves, with Something that may be comeing both to themselves and mee. I desire to leave it to my children in the best order as I can, among them.

Signed, EDMUND NEEDHAM."

(There have been traditions among several of Samuel Hartt's descendants that the early ones were expecting money from England, which was probably the above.)

His wife, Jane Needham, died Oct. 24, 1674, aged 64, and Edward Needham died June 27, 1677.

Most of the descendants of Samuell Hartt affiliate with the Congregational church.

1-2.

Samuell Hartt was born in 1622 in London, England, as supposed, son of ——— ———. He married Mary How, a widow and daughter of Edmund and Jane (———) Needham of Lynn, Mass., about 1653, and resided at Lynn; a blacksmith by trade. His wife Mary died Oct. 24, 1671, and he married, second, Jan. 29, 1673, Mary Whiteridge. Samuell Hartt died June 25, 1683, aged 61 years. His widow, Mary, married March 5, 1684, William Beal of Lynn, Mass., by whom she had children.

Children born in Lynn (Vital Records):

3. Mary, b. ——; d. July 20, 1657.
4. Samuel, b. 1656; m. Abigail Lamboard.
5. Hannah, b. April 2, 1657. I found nothing more of her; probably died young.
6. Joseph, b. April 10, 1659, resided in Lynn; a blacksmith.

Children by second wife, Mary Whiteridge:

11. John, b. ——; d. Nov. 4, 1675.
12. William, b. July 30, 1676; d. Aug. —, 1678.

Samuel[2] Hart (Samuell[1]), born in Lynn, Mass., 1656, oldest son of Samuell and Mary (Needham) Hart; married at Lynn, Jan. 4, 1680, Elizabeth Ingols, daughter of Robert,[2] who was son of Edmund Ingols. She died Nov. 2, 1681, of childbirth, and he married second at Lynn, June 9, 1684, Abigail Lamboard. Mr. Hart resided at Lynn, Mass., a blacksmith and yeoman, or farmer, by trade. He died Dec. 30, 1730, aged 74 years. His widow, Abigail, died Sept. 1, 1747, aged 84 years, and was buried in the old cemetery at the west part of Lynn. On the headstone the name Hart is spelled with a single "t." Her husband, Samuel Hart, has no headstone.

Samuel Hart, in his will, calls himself senior:

Thus I Samuel Hart Senior of Lynn Mass Being aged and week of body, but sound of mind, Do make this Will . . . I give and bequeath to my wife Abigail Hart all of my moveable Estate within doors and without . . . And I give and bequeath to my two Sons John and Ralph Hart all of my Real Estate of what ever kind to divide between them. And I give my two daughters Mary Mansfield and Hannah Hart, fourteene Pounds Each. And I appoint John and Ralph Hart Administrators of this my last Will and testament, this sixth day of June, 1730.

Signed his SAMUEL X HART mark

20. Joseph, b. Aug. 11, 1703; is not mentioned in his father's will. Probably a sailor and lost at sea.

The following deeds show connections of families:

"I Samuel Hart Senior of Lynn Mass. gave a Deed of land Situated in Lynn to my Son John Hart of Lynn, Shipwright. March 7, 1728." Recorded at Salem, Mass., book 53, page 8.

This John Hart settled in Boston about 1735. Another deed: "I Samuel Hart Senior of Lynn for Twelve Pounds Paid by my Son Ralph Hart of Boston Mass Shipwright." The land was in Lynn, Mass.; date April 5, 1727. Recorded at Salem, Mass., book 57, page 115.

John[3] Hart (Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born Aug. 24, 1693, in Lynn, Mass., fifth child and second son of Samuel, Jr., and Abigail (Lamboard) Hartt.

I cannot find by deeds or otherwise that this John Hart ever spelled his name with double "tt." He married at Lynn, May 3, 1716, Doratha Farrington of Lynn. Mr. Hart was a shipwright or ship carpenter by trade. Resided at Lynn, Mass., until about 1735, when he removed to Boston, Mass., and bought a house on Cowlane, so-called, and worked at his trade for years. Administration on his estate, March —, 1778, by Lois Clouston, a widow. He is buried in Old Grainery yard; no head stone. His wife Doratha died May 3, 1751, age 56 years; buried in the Old Grainery at Park Street church near Boston common; has a headstone.

27. Josiah, b. in Boston; d. Sept. 25, 1740, age 1 year, 7 months; headstone beside his mother's in Old Grainery yard, Boston, Mass.

Samuel[4] Hart (John[3], Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born Jan. 30, 1716–'17, in Lynn, Mass., oldest son of John and Doratha (Farrington) Hart; married by Rev. Joseph Sewell, D. D., at Boston, Mass., March 19, 1740, to Miss Deborah Welch. Mr. Hart was a shipwright by trade, resided at Boston on Cowlane, in one half of a house which he bought of his father, John Hart, April 4, 1748, as shown by deed recorded at Boston, Mass., book 109, page 38. Samuel Hart was deceased before 1788, as shown by a deed, book 163, page 93, which mentions one son only, William.

28. William, b. 1750, lived at Boston; d. Sept. 1, 1815, aged 65 years.

28.

William[6] Hart (Samuel[4], John[3], Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born in Boston in 1780, only son of Samuel and Deborah (Welch) Hart; married Sarah (———), her maiden name unknown. Mr. Hart lived on Charter street, Boston, Mass.; was a pump and block maker. He heired the real estate from his father and mother, Samuel and Deborah (Welch) Hart, which he sold July 14, 1788, as shown by deed, book 163, page 93, recorded at Boston; the same property of his father and grandfather, John Hart. His mother, Deborah, was alive and signed this deed in 1788.

William Hart, while sitting by an old-fashioned fireplace on Charter street one morning, Sept. 1, 1815, dropped dead. He is buried at Copp's Hill. New Grounds, tomb of William Dyer and others. There is no record of his wife's death.

Samuel[6] Hart (William[5], Samuel[4], John[3], Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born in Boston, Mass., 1785, third son of William and Sarah (——) Hart; married Mary Jennings, daughter of Benjamin Jennings. She died Nov. 8, 1828, age 41 years, 8 months. He married, second, Naomi Giminy Ingalls, born in Salem, Mass., Sept. 25, 1799, daughter of James and Sally (Tucksbury) Ingalls of Salem.

Mr. Hart resided at No. 7 Jefferson street, Boston, Mass.; a bricklayer and paver. He was in company with his brother, William Hart, office at old state house, in 1826. He made his will April 3, 1838, in which are named nine children. The will was probated June 11, 1838, at Boston, book 136, page 370, and book 430, page 28. Mr. Hart died May 7, 1838, age 53 years, and is buried in tomb 13, Copp's Hill cemetery, New Grounds. His second wife, Naomi G., died March 25, 1862, age 63 years, 6 months, at No. 7 Jefferson street, of heart disease; buried in tomb 13, Copp's Hill.

Dates of births of children from an old Bible in the possessions of Miss Susan M. Orne of 360 Harvard street, Brookline, Mass. Her mother was a sister of Naomi G. (Ingalls) Hart:

53. Mary, b. July 5, 1808; not mentioned in will.
54. Catherine F., b. Dec. 27, 1809; m. a Mr. Snelling.
55. Samuel, b. Aug. 25, 1811; lived in Boston.
56. Lucretia D., b. Aug. 23, 1813; named in will.

62. Sophia Dyer, b. Jan. 8, 1825; d. August, 1851, unmarried. It is said that the most of the above children died of consumption.

The Jennings family were consumptive.

A son by second wife, Naomi G. Ingalls:

63. George Lafayette, b. Feb. 18, 1834; m. Caroline M. Davis.

55.

Samuel[7] Hart, Jr. (Samuel[6], William[5], Samuel[4], John[3], Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born Aug. 25, 1811, in Boston, Mass., oldest son of Samuel and Mary (Jennings) Hart; married by Rev. Sebastian Streeter at Boston, Oct. 16, 1834, Susan Geyer. Samuel Hart, Jr., resided at Boston, Mass.; a bricklayer and paver. He died Oct. 5, 1840. No record of children.

His brother, Jacob Jennings Hart, was born Aug. 8, 1817; married at Boston, by Rev. Daniel Sharp, Sept. 20, 1838, Lydia W. Haws, and lived at Boston. He died of consumption, June 21, 1841, age 24 years. No records found of children.

George[7] Lafayette Hart (Samuel[6], William[5], Samuel[4], John[3], Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born in Boston, Mass., Feb. 18, 1834, youngest son of Samuel and second wife Naomi G. (Ingalls) Hart; married at Providence, R. I., by Edwin M. Stone, Jan. 22, 1854, Caroline Matilda Davis, born Sept. 2, 1837, in Freetown, Mass., daughter of Hiram and Matilda (Peabody) Davis.

Mr. Hart resided at No. 88 Brookline street, Boston, Mass.; a merchant and real estate agent. He died Dec. 13, 1876, age 42 years, and was buried in tomb 13, Copp's Hill cemetery, New Grounds. His widow, Caroline M., is living (1902) at 88 Brookline street.

Children born in Boston (Vital Records):

64. Franklin Lafayette, b. Sept. 8, 1854.

67. Adaline Louisa, b. April 1, 1863. Resides with her mother at 88 Brookline street, Boston. Unmarried in 1902.

Franklin[8], Lafayette Hart (George[7] L., Samuel[6], William[5], Samuel[4], John[3], Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born in Boston, Mass., Sept. 8, 1854, oldest son of George L., and Caroline M. (Davis) Hart; married in Boston, by Rev. F. M. Ellis, Oct. 16, 1883, Miss Mattie E. Kerker, age 22 years; born in Delaware city, state of Delaware, and daughter of John and Rebecca Kerker. They quarreled, and never lived together.

Mr. Hart resides at New York city, N. Y., and is agent for a typewriting company (1903).

Michael[4] Hart (John[3], Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born in Lynn, Mass., July 13, 1718, second son of John and Doratha (Farrington) Hart; married at Boston, Mass., by Joseph Sewall, March 27, 1746, Mary Davis.

Mr. Hart resided on Cowlane, in Boston, Mass., and was a shipwright by trade; bought one half of his father's, John Hart's, house on Cowlane, Jan. 20, 1764, as shown by a deed recorded at Boston, book 101, pages 123, 124. Michael Hart was a member of the Old South Congregational church. He died in September, 1781. Mrs. Lois Clouston was administratrix of his estate. She distributed property thus:

To the widow of Michael Hart, for her trouble,	£ 3 10s.
To the estate of John Hart,	£57 1s. 4p.
To John Sprague,	£22 10s. 11p.
To John Steadman,	£10 11s. 4p.
To Katurah Durant,	£ 6
To Jeffery Richerson,	£10

Recorded at Boston, Mass., book 81, page 244, and book 82, page 28, and book 83, pages 65, 66, 67, and 68.

Michael Hart's children, as shown by child baptism in Old South church books:

68. Mary, bapt. Jan. 31, 1747; m. in Boston, by Samuel Parker, Aug. 27, 1787, Samuel Sanger of Boston.
69. Josiah, bapt. Sept. 2, 1750. I find nothing more of him.
70. Doratha, bapt. Dec. 10, 1752. Probably m. John Steadman.
71. Sarah, bapt. Feb. 4, 1755; m. Dec. 21, 1780, William Belstead of Boston.
72. Lois, bapt. April 2, 1758. A Lois Hart m. Nov. 13, 1769, Philip Peach of Boston.
73. Katurah, bapt. May 3, 1761; m. a Mr. Durant.
74. Michael, bapt. July, 20, 1766. I find nothing more of him.

23.

John[4] Hart, Jr. (John[3], Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born in Lynn, Mass., July 28, 1720, third son of John and Doratha (Farrington) Hart; married Sarah (maiden name unknown).

John Hart, Jr., was residing at South Hampton, N. H., between 1753 and 1760, as shown by early church records, printed in the New England Historical Genealogical Register, at 18 Somerset street, Boston, Mass., book 52, pages 168 and 427.

Child baptisms in South Hampton, N. H., "28th of April, 1753, Winthrop Hart, son of John, Jr., and Sarah, his wife." Pages 168 and 427.

"Aug. 26st, 1759, Sarah, daughter of John, Jr., and Sarah, his wife." Pages 168 and 427.

I find nothing more of these children. The early New Hampshire Vital Records are a total blank. I find nothing but church records and registry of deeds and wills to work on. No head stones.

There is a possibility that the above John Hart was the father of Elizabeth, Charles W., and William Hart, Nos. 103, 104, and 105, of Weare, N. H. I find no solid evidence of connection and parentage of the Weare Harts.

Capt. Ralph[3], Hartt (Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born in Lynn, Mass., June 12, 1699, fourth son of Samuel, Jr., and Abigail (Lamboard) Hart; married at Lynn, Mass., by Mr. Henchman, Nov. 27, 1722, Mary Hudson. She was born in Lynn, May 27, 1699, daughter of Moses and Sarah (Collins) Hudson.

Ralph Hartt settled in Boston, Mass, and was a ship builder. His wife, Mary, died Aug. 2, 1733, age 34 years, 2 months, and is buried at Copp's Hill cemetery, section 9; head stones. Mr. Hart married, second, at Lynn, Jan. 8, 1734–'35, Lois Rowling. She died Nov. 5, 1751, age 46 years, and is buried at Copp's Hill. Head stone. He married, third, 1752, Mrs. Sarah Osgood of Stoneham, Mass., deceased Dec. 3, 1801. The administration on her estate by Sarah and Joseph Dalton. Recorded at Cambridge, Mass., in case 7378. Probably a daughter, Sarah Osgood, married Joseph Dalton of Stoneham, Mass. Mr. Hartt's deeds show he spelled his name with double "tt." He was chosen captain of an artillery company at Boston in the year 1754, and died March 14, 1776, age 77 years. He lies beside his two wives in Copp's Hill cemetery, section 9, which is in the center of the grounds on the east side of the cemetery. Administration on his estate was by Zephaniah Hartt, May 22, 1778, book 82, page 217, at Boston.

Children born in Boston (Vital Records):

75. Zephaniah, b. Dec. 19, 1724; lived in Boston.
76. Mary, b. July 31, 1726; m. a Mr. Joshua Bowles, son of John of Roxbury, Mass., and had a daughter Mary. Mrs. Mary Bowles d. Jan. 16, 1780.
77. Abigail, b. Dec. 8, 1727; m. Sept. 2, 1747, John Treat, and m. second (published Oct. 5, 1763), Edward Gyles. She left three children by each husband.
78. Rebecca, b. April 21, 1729; m. Joseph How of Boston.
79. Samuel, b. Dec. 12, 1730.

A Samuel Hart m. at Lynn, Mass., May 1, 1754, Tabitha Williams. No record of children, and was not mentioned in settling Ralph Hartt's estate, 1778.

75.

Zephaniah[4] Hartt (Ralph[3], Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born in Boston, Mass., Dec. 19, 1724, oldest son of Ralph and Mary (Hudson) Hartt; married at Boston, by Rev. Andrew Elliott, Nov. 24, 1748, Miss Sarah Copp, daughter of Thomas and Ruth (——) Copp, a barber in Boston, and granddaughter of David Copp, innholder of Boston. Zephaniah Hartt had a second wife, Margaret, as shown by deed of 1789. He resided on Charter street, Boston, Mass.; a shipwright by trade. He died September, 1791, age 67 years.

I find no record of children, but the city government records say:

80. Mr. Ralph Hart was drafted to do duty in town and harbor of Boston, Sept. 16, 1777; served one month and fifteen days in Capt. Heath's company, Col. Thomas Craft's regiment.

I think this was Zephaniah Hartt's son. Boston records, documents Nos. 22 and 92, showing heads of families, say Ralph Hart was taxed in 1790, and had a family of a wife and two children. The Boston directory of 1789 says Ralph Hart was a mastmaker on Charles street. He died Oct. 5, 1810. I found nothing by which to continue further.

78.

Rebecca[4] Hartt (Ralph[3], Samuel[2], Samuell[1]), born in Boston, Mass., April 21, 1729, fourth child of Ralph and Mary (Hudson) Hart. Intention of marriage at Boston, Oct. 4, 1750, to Joseph How of Boston, Mass., a tin plate worker. They were both deceased before 1784. The settlement of Ralph Hartt's estate tells the names of Joseph and Rebecca (Hart) How's children:

i. Joseph.
ii. John Green.
iii. Rebecca; m. Mr. Withenble.
iv. Louisa.
v. Sarah; m. Mr. Green.
vi. David.
vii. Mary.
viii. Abigail.

6.

Joseph[2] Hartt (Samuell[1]), born in Lynn, Mass., April 10, 1659, second son of Samuel and Mary (Needham) Hartt; married at Lynn, June 24, 1685, Ruth Chadwell of Lynn.

Mr. Hartt resided at Lynn, Mass., during life. I find no records of their death. He was a blacksmith by trade, and on April 14, 1691, Joseph Hartt and Clement Coldam were chosen cannoneers to look after the great guns. (Lynn History.)

Children born in Lynn, Mass. (Vital Records):

81. Ruth, b. July 4, 1687; d. young.
82. Joseph, b. Sept. 12, 1689; settled in Berwick, Me.
83. Moses, b. Dec. 25, 1691; d. Feb. 20, 1719. Buried in old cemetery at Lynn. Head stone.
84. Elias, b. Sept. 30, 1695; deceased, Aug. 8, 1721, age 25 years, 11 months. Buried in old cemetery, Lynn. Head stone.
85. Ruth, b. April 3, 1697; m. Samuel Coats.
86. Aaron, b. Aug. 17, 1700; resided at Lynn.
87. Edmund, b. Oct. 18, 1702. I find nothing more of him.
88. Benjamin, b. April 21, 1705; settled at Boston, Mass.
89. Samuel, b. Nov. 15, 1707; resided at Lynn, Mass.

Joseph[3] Hartt, Jr. (Joseph[2], Samuell[1]), born in Lynn, Mass., Sept. 12, 1689, oldest son of Joseph and Ruth (Chadwell) Hartt; married at Berwick, Me., by Rev. Jeremiah Wise, Dec. 18, 1718, Elizabeth Gowen. She was born July 25, 1697, in Kittery, Me., daughter of Nicholas and Abigail (Cook) Gowen of Kittery, Me., who made his will in 1733, and mentions his daughter Elizabeth Hartt. Mr. Joseph

Hartt, Jr., learned the blacksmith's trade of his father and bought twelve acres of land for forty pounds of Elisha Cook of Boston, Mass., Oct. 10, 1718. This land was in Berwick, Me., where Mr. Hartt lived his lifetime. Deeds show he spelled his name with double "tt." Administration on his estate was granted to James Gowen, Esq., of Kittery, Me., April 10, 1769, and the widow, Elizabeth Hartt, got the twelve acres of land and buildings and the wife of James Foy got a small share. Probate records at Alfred, Me., book 12, pages 53 and 75.

Rev. George Lewis, pastor at South Berwick, Me. (1902), furnished the following from the early books of the Congregational church of Berwick, Me.: "Mrs. Elizabeth Hart, wife of Joseph Hart, was united with this church 1719."

Children, from church books, Berwick, Me.:

90. Ruth, bapt. Nov. 22, 1719; m. Feb. 4, 1747, Nicholas Lord of Berwick, Me.

    Children:

    1. Joseph, bapt. Jan. 22, 1748–49; m. Hannah Kilgon.
    2. Margaret, bapt. Jan. 22, 1752; m. Sept. 15, 1774, Drico Nocks; d. Aug. 3, 1832, age 82 years.
    3. Ruth, bapt. Sept. 30, 1755.
    4. Betty, bapt. Sept. 30, 1755.
    5. Elias, bapt. ——; m. April 10, 1785, Elizabeth Kilgon. (From Stockpole's History of Kittery, Me.)

91. Elias, bapt. Feb. 3, 1722–23; was a private soldier in 1745.
92. Elizabeth, twin, bapt. Nov. 29, 1724; m. James Foy of Berwick, Me.; a shoemaker.

    Children:

    1. James, Jr., bapt. May 1, 1761.
    2. Elizabeth, bapt. May 1, 1761.
    3. Naomi, bapt. May 1, 1761.
    4. Moses, bapt. May 1, 1761.
    5. John, bapt. Jan. 12, 1763.

    (Records at Second church in Berwick, Me.)

93. Abigail, twin, bapt. Nov. 29, 1724.
94. Joseph, bapt. March 23, 1727; may have settled in Boston.
95. John, bapt. May 2, 1731; learned the blacksmith's trade of his father, and settled at Hopkinton, N. H., as supposed.
96. Darling Huntress and Love Hart were m. at Berwick, Me., Dec. 6, 1751; whose daughter she is is unknown.

John[4] Hart (Joseph[3], Joseph[2], Samuell[1]), born in Berwick, Me.; baptized May 2, 1731, youngest son of Joseph and Elizabeth (Gowen) Hartt. He learned his trade as a blacksmith from his father, and married, about 1756, Margery ———, her maiden name unknown. It may have been Webster. This John Hart appears in Hopkinton, N. H., about 1790, in fact he may have lived there for years. He bought land of Nathaniel Clement, April 9, 1790, as shown by a deed recorded at Nashua, N. H., and John Hart of Hopkinton, blacksmith, for $156; paid by Abraham Kimball. Sold land in Hopkinton, Dec. 18, 1796, signed John Hart; his wife signed this deed, Margery her × mark Hart. Deed recorded at Nashua, N. H., book 41, page 533. His wife, Margery Hart, did not sign deeds after this. Probably died in 1797. John Hart was at Concord, N. H., Sept. 19, 1800, and sold land back in Hopkinton; was at Boscawen, N. H., Dec. 12, 1801, as shown by a deed; was at Hampton, N. H., 1803, and I find nothing more of him.

Children may have been born in Hopkinton, N. H. There are no early vital records in New Hampshire towns.

97. Elizabeth, or Betsey, b. about 1758; m. Jacob Carr of Weare, N. H., about 1778.

98. Charles W., b. about 1762; resided in Dunbarton and Goffstown, N. H., and was killed by Indians in the war of 1812 to 1815.

99. William, b. in 1765; resided in Weare, N. H.; d. Oct. 7, 1810, age 45 years.

My father, Edson P. Hart, left a tradition thus: The first he knew of his ancestry, there were three brothers; one settled in Maine and one in Boston, Mass., and he could not tell where the other one settled. The Joseph Hartt, No. 82, is the one referred to as settling in Maine, as supposed. The early vital town records in Maine and New Hampshire are both blanks.—Ed.

Elizabeth[5] Hart (John[4], Joseph[3], Joseph[2], Samuel[1]), born about 1756, daughter of John and Margery (——) Hart; married Jacob[5] Carr of Weare, N. H., about 1778. This Jacob Carr was born in Salisbury, Mass., Dec. 11, 1754, son of Nathan[4] Carr, who was born in Salisbury, Mass., June 14, 1728, and was son of Robert[3] Carr, who was born in Salisbury, Sept. 28, 1685, and son of William[2] Carr, who was born in Salisbury, Mass., March 15, 1648, and was son of George[1] Carr, the emigrant; he was born in London, England, 1599, and is said to have come to America in 1620, as a ship carpenter on the Mayflower. He soon after settled on an island near Salisbury, Mass., and had a ferry across to the mainland for two or three generations. Jacob Carr came from Haverhill, Mass., to Weare, N. H., about 1766. He was a soldier of the Revolution, 1776, and a great story teller of early times. He died December, 1836. His father, Nathan Carr, also came from Haverhill, Mass., to Weare, N. H., about 1766, where he remained the rest of his life.

Children of Jacob Carr as shown by Weare, N. H., History:

i. Jacob, Jr.; m. Miss Pollard and lived at Fishersfield, now Newbury, N. H. He was representative from that town at the time of his death. He had two sons, Jesse and Hiram Carr.

ii. Nathan; m. Nellie Bassord and lived at Thornton, N. H., and and had four children: Elmira, Elizabeth, Mary, and John, who went West.

Elizabeth, was b. in 1816; she m. Joseph Wallace of Campton, N. H., and is still living (1902), age 86 years, with her son, James M. Wallace of Campton.

iii. Jesse; m. Dec. 16, 1810, Hannah Gale of Weare, N. H. She was born Nov. 7, 1792. He m. second Mary Smith of Bradford, N. H., and lived a few years at Weare, N. H., then removed to Goffstown, N. H., and was for a time judge of court of common pleas. He died at the age of 92 years.

iv. Dr. John, b. Aug. 22, 1785; settled at Sanbornton, N. H.

William[5] Hart (John[4], Joseph[3], Joseph[2], Samuel[1]), born in 1765, in the town of Hopkinton, N. H., as supposed.

It was the custom in olden times to name the first child, if a son, junior; and the second child, if a son, after the wife's father; and the third child, if a son, after the husband's father. This rule was applied to William Hart's family of children without doubt, and William Hart was son of a John Hart.

William Hart is supposed to be the youngest son of John and Margery (——) Hart, of Hopkinton, N. H., blacksmith. William Hart married about 1787, Mary[5] Sargent (called Polly). She was born in Dunbarton, N. H., Feb. 4, 1768, daughter of Abel and Sarah (Hadley) Sargent. Abel[4] Sargent was born in Amesbury, Mass., Sept. 10, 1734, son of Philip[3], William[2], William[1].

Mr. Hart settled in East Weare, N. H., at Oil Mills, and near the Dunbarton line. He was a neighbor of his sister, Elizabeth, or Betsey, Carr, wife of Jacob Carr, and near his brother, Charles W. Hart, who lived for a time in Dunbarton, near the Weare line. William Hart was a farmer, but never owned real estate. Tradition says he was a small, dark complexioned, black-eyed man; weight, 130 lbs. He died of what is called at the present day appendicitis, Oct. 7, 1810, age 45 years, and is buried in Weare, N. H.; no head stone. His widow, Mary, lived many years afterwards with a daughter, Mrs. Mary (Hart) Strong of Hartford, Vt. and died in Jan., 1834, and is buried in a cemetery at Quechee village, Hartford, Vt.

Children born in Weare, N. H.:

William[6] Hart, Jr. (William[5], John[4], Joseph[3], Joseph[2], Samuell[1]), born in Weare, N. H., Jan. 27, 1788, oldest son of William and Mary (Sargent) Hart; married at Dunbarton, N. H., Feb. 13, 1814, Sarah Gould. She was born Feb. 7, 1795, in Dunbarton, N. H., daughter of Eben and Polly (Woodbury) Gould of Dunbarton.

Mr. Hart lived a few years at the Raymond place, and at the Oil Mills in Weare, N. H., and about 1827 settled at Sutton Mills, N. H., where he lived many years; was a wheeland millwright by occupation. While repairing a grist-mill he froze his feet, which caused blood poisoning, from which he died July 8, 1857. His widow, Sarah, lived many years afterwards and attained the age of 96 years, and died Nov. 28, 1891, in the house William Hart, Jr., built. She had a tradition that money was left in England for the Hart family, which is supposed to refer to the money Edmund Needham of Lynn, Mass., mentioned in his will of 1677, as expecting from England, a sketch of which is to be found in the first pages of this book.

Edson[7] Perkins Hart (Abel[6], William[5], John[4], Joseph[3], Joseph[2], Samuell[1]), born in Hartford, Vt., Oct. 16, 1814, oldest living son of Abel and Amelia (Porter) Hart; married as shown by Vital Records found at Manchester, N. H.:

"Hillsborough County, ss. Be it remembered that at Manchester, N. H., the county aforesaid, on the eighth day of April, 1841, Mr. Edson P. Hart and Miss Mary Jaen Morrison, both of the county aforesaid and state of Newhampshire, were duely joined in marriage by me.

"J. Jones, Minister.

"Manchester, N. H., April 8, 1841."

Miss Mary Jean Morrison was born Oct. 21, 1818, at Amherst, N. H., only daughter of James and Susannah (Clogston) Morrison.

Mr. Edson P. Hart was a carpenter and wheelwright by trade; lived at Thornton Gore, N. H., a few years, and 1855 bought the grist and sawmills at Mill Brook, Thornton, N. H. A tremendous freshet in July, 1856, carried this mill off, which he could not rebuild, and he was financially embarrassed for years afterwards. The year 1857 he went to Campton Village, N. H., and built a little cottage. His wife, Mary Jean, died Aug. 25, 1858, and he married, second, Aug. 19, 1859, Mary Story Stinson, born Sept. 16, 1815, in Dunbarton, N. H., daughter of John and Anna (Cunningham) Stinson.

Mr. Hart was a fair-sized man, 5 feet 8 inches tall, of medium complexion, brown hair, black beard, and dark gray eyes; weight, 175 lbs. About 1868 he bought a small farm on the hill three miles from Campton Village, where, with the aid of a pension for a son lost in the Civil war, he managed to live comfortably for 18 years. He died Sept. 3, 1886, aged 71 years, 10 months, 18 days, and is buried with his first wife in the Campton cemetery; head stones. His widow, Mary S., went to live with her cousin, David Story, of Dunbarton, N. H., where she died Sept. 7, 1898, and was buried at her own request in the cemetery at Dunbarton Center, with her father's family.

Ancestry of Perley M. Hart on his mother's side: Caroline Maria Brown was born June 16, 1847, daughter of Nicholas Brown and Eliza Ann Page of Campton, N. H., who was born Aug. 13, 1823, in Holderness, N. H., daughter of Daniel, Jr., and Sabrina (Clement) Page. He was born in Centre Harbor, N. H., and died in Campton, Oct. 8, 1892, age 96 years, and was a son of Daniel and Ann (Towle) Page of Old Hampton, N. H.

Nicholas Brown was born Sept. 24, 1818, in Strafford, N. H., son of Daniel and Polly (Brown) Brown, who was born in Strafford, N. H. The ancestor of this line, John Brown, came from Jersey Island, England, to America about 1640, and tradition says served as a soldier under King Charles Stuart, who gave John Brown a large piece of land on Jersey Island, and the Brown family at this day (1903) are expecting payment for that land from England. Nicholas Brown lived at Campton, N. H., a farmer. He died Sept. 18, 1902, age 84 years, lacking 6 days, and his widow, Eliza Ann, died Jan. 30, 1903, age nearly 80 years.

Ancestry of James M. Hart on his mother's side: Mary Jean Morrison was born Oct. 21, 1818, in Amherst, N. H., only daughter of James and Susannah (Clogston) Morrison. James Morrison was born Oct. 19, 1783, in Londonderry, N. H., and married April 16, 1816, Susannah Clogston. She was born Nov. 27, 1798, daughter of Matthew Little and Doratha (Sargent) Clogston of Goffstown, N. H. James Morrison was a carpenter by trade, and died at his home in Amherst, N. H., of a fever, June 26, 1819, age 36 years. The author of this genealogy was named for him. Mr. Morrison was son of Capt. Samuel and Jean (Adams) Morrison of Londonderry, N. H. Samuel Morrison was born Sept. 18, 1755, in Londonderry, N. H.; was a carpenter by trade, and fell from the roof of a building at Amherst, N. H., where he resided, June 13, 1820, and was killed. His wife, Jean Adams, was born April 5, 1754, and died Feb. 19, 1814, at Amherst. They had four children. Capt. Samuel was a son of Joseph and Mary (Holmes) Morrison of Londonderry, N. H., and tradition says that Joseph Morrison was born in 1720, and was one year old when his father, John Morrison, brought him across the ocean in 1721. This John Morrison, Sr., was born in Aberdeen, or Argyleshire, Scotland, in 1628; he married about 1679 and settled near Colrain, in the north part of Ireland, and had five children by his first wife. During the siege of Londonderry, Ireland, by the Catholics, Mr. Morrison and his family (John, Jr., only nine years of age) were driven under the walls of the besieged city on June 30, 1689, where they were exposed to starvation and the missiles of both armies, and were subsequently admitted within the city. On the 4th* of July, 1689, they were permitted to return to their homes. John Morrison, Sr., married for his second wife Jane Steele, a Scotch lady, about 1708, by whom he had four children. The whole family of nine children came to Londonderry, N. H., about 1718 to 1721, and this John Morrison, Sr., lived until Feb. 16, 1736, aged 108 years. There is a genealogy of his descendants by Leonard Morrison of Windham, N. H.

Dan[7] Wright Hart (Abel[6], William[5], John[4], Joseph[3], Joseph[2], Samuell[1]), born in Hartford, Vt., Aug. 3, 1818, fourth son of Abel and Amelia (Porter) Hart; married Jan. 1, 1840, Hulda Brown of Thornton, N. H. She owned a large farm on the west side of the river at the Grozery Harbor fordway, and about 1848 they sold out and went to Winslow, Ill.

Mr. Hart was a carpenter and carriage maker. His wife, Hulda, died Nov. 24, 1856, without leaving children, and he married, second, June 10, 1857, Cyntha Ann McDuff, a widow, of Monroe, Green county, Wis. She was born Aug. 1, 1834, daughter of Mary Ellen Pare. After this marriage Mr. Hart lived for a time at Monroe, Wis., but returned to Winslow, Ill., and later went to Hooper, Dodge county, Neb., where he died April 15, 1888, and is buried at Hooper. THE NICHOLAS HART GENEALOGY.

The Savage Genealogy says: "Nicholas Hart was of Taunton, Mass., 1642, and was excommuned there and came to Boston, Mass., 1643; remained there to 1648, and at Warwick, R. I.; after 1648 a merchant."

Nicholas Hart was a Continental soldier in William Pool's company, 1643; he married Joana Rossiter, youngest daughter of Edward Rossiter of Rhode Island, who came from London, Eng., with, and was an assistant to, Governor John Winthrop of Massachusetts, who was chosen at London, Eng., in 1629, and came to America in the spring of 1630. Edward Rossiter died Oct. 30, 1630, at Warwick, R. I., as supposed. The Plymouth, Mass., deed records, book 5, page 171, say Joana Hart, wife of Nicholas Hart, late inhabitant of Taunton, Plymouth county, Mass., sold a piece of land to Edward Row of Taunton, where the land was situated, Feb. 18, 1661. There are no records of Nicholas Hart's, or his wife's, death.

In Henry Water's "Gleanings of Wills in England," book 2, pages 1397-1398, is a will of "William Harte of the Parish of St. Thomas the Apostle, London, Eng., Merchant Tailor, 17th of May, 1632, proved 23d May, 1632. To wife Mary. To oldest son, John Harte, provided otherwise in Lands. To daughter, Margaret Hartt. My wife shall have the bringing up of my said children. To my Uncle, Edmund Wilson, Dr. of Physic. To my Cousin, Mr. Richard Warwick. To every one of the children of my brothers, Richard and Thomas Hartt. To the Parish of Bove Tracy in Devonshier, England, where we were born, etc. To my cousin, Francis Southcott, gent. To my Uncle, William Tayler, dwelling in Pater Noster Row, London, Eng. To my brother, Mr. Thomas Somers, and Francis Tayler, etc."

Nicholas Hart is supposed to be the son of the Richard Hartt named in above will, who probably lived in London. Nicholas settled in Warwick, R. I., as shown by the Austin Genealogy of the first three generations, which says Nicholas Hart of Warwick, R. I., left one son only.

385 Richard, b. probably in London, Eng., about 1635.

385.

Richard[2] Hart (Nicholas[1]), married Hannah ——, her maiden name supposed to have been Keen. Mr. Hart lived at Portsmouth, R. I., and was a sailor or mariner. On Dec. 10, 1657, he received a grant of eight acres of land in Portsmouth, R. I., and Nov. 16, 1662, he sold Thomas Butts four acres of this land.

Then I find administration was granted to Patrick Keen, a kinsman, of Newport, R. I., Feb. 4, 1694–'95, on estate of Richard Hart, deceased, seaman, late belonging to the sloop Dragon, Robert Glover, commander. Recorded at Boston, Suffolk county, Mass., book 13, page 597. Richard Hart died in Jan., 1694–'95, near Boston. Probably lost in a gale.

Children born in Portsmouth, R. I.:

386. Alice, b. March 8, 1664; m. George Reace.

Jeremiah[5] Hart (Richard[4], Richard[3], Richard[2], Nicholas[1]), born in Little Compton, R. I., April 5, 1745, fifth son of Richard and Mary (Taber) Hart; he went with his brothers, Richard, Jr., and Philip Hart, to Dutchess county, N. Y., and on Jan. 7, 1783, Jeremiah Hart, then at Albany, N.Y., sold his interest in the Dutchess county farm to Philip Hart. A descendant, Newton W. Hart of Wabash, Ind., says his great-grandfather, Jeremiah Hart, settled on a farm at the south-east side of Saratoga lake in Saratoga county, N. Y. Jeremiah Hart married Abigail Pearsall. Mr. Hart was scout in the American army, War of the Revolution, and came from Rhode Island about 1775,—so says N. B. Sylvester in his history of Saratoga county, N. Y., page 289.

Mr. Hart settled on the east side of Stillwater, or Saratoga Lake, on the farm now owned by Charles Arnold, where he lived and died in a log house by the lake.

Children:

i. Jeremiah, Jr; lived at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., and had one son and two daughters, as supposed.
ii. Reuben, b. May 23, 1775; lived at Stillwater and Hartsville, N. Y.
iii. Stephen; lived at Turin and Pinckney, N. Y.

vi. Sarah; m. a Mr. Bidwell.
vii. Hannah; m. Bronson Hill, and lived at or near Sandusky, Ohio.
viii. Phebe; m. a Mr. Rogers, and lived near Sandusky, Ohio.

The following records were furnished by Newton W. Hart of Wabash, Ind., a descendant:

Reuben[6] Hart (Jeremiah[5], Richard[4], Richard[3], Richard[2], Nicholas[1]), was born May 23, 1775, probably at Hart's Village, N. Y., son of Jeremiah and Abigail (Pearsall) Hart; married Sarah Powell, daughter of Obadiah and Elizabeth (Frost) Powell.

Mr. Hart lived at Stillwater, and later at Hartsville, Dutchess county, N. Y., a hatter by trade. He died Sept. 12, 1840, and his widow died Oct. 23, 1863. Both are buried at Hartsville, N. Y. They had eleven children. One of them, Orville Child Hart, born May 30, 1811, at Stillwater, N. Y., married at Hartsville, N. Y., Sept., 1833, Miss Mary Elizabeth Clason, born at Stamford, Conn., June 19, 1815, daughter of James and Abigail (Ferris) Clason.

Mr. Hart was a farmer by occupation and lived a few years in several places. He lived first at Hartsville, N. Y., Sandusky, Ohio, Beaver Dam, Wis., Cherry Grove, Lake Lillian, Minn., and, lastly, at Ellendale, N. D., for fourteen years, where he died Aug. 3, 1896. His wife died July 12, 1891, and both are buried at Ellendale, N. D.

Philip[5] Hart (Richard[4], Richard[3], Richard[2], Nicholas[1]), born in Little Compton, R. I., Jan. 12, 1749, youngest son of Richard and Mary (Taber) Hart. Evidently Philip Hart went with two brothers, Richard and Jeremiah, about 1770, to Dutchess county, N. Y., and bought a large farm on the Turnpike road leading from Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to Sharon, Conn., about fifteen miles east of Poughkeepsie. On this farm Richard built a house, which was later occupied by Philip Hart, and is standing yet (1903). Soon after 1770 a large population from Dartmouth, Mass., settled at this place, and among them were Hart families and a Benjamin Aiken, Jr., and family. It became known as Hart's Village, and is now Millbrook. Philip Hart married Dec. 18, 1774, Susannah Akin, born in Dartmouth, Mass., daughter of the above Benjamin Akin, Jr., and Mary (Allen) Akin.

On Jan. 7, 1784, he bought out Richard and Jeremiah Hart, who were then at Albany, N. Y., and Sept. 18, 1793, Abigail Hart, the widow of Richard Hart (father of Philip), of Little Compton, R. I., sold her dower right to Philip Hart, who became exclusive owner of the Dutchess county farm. He built a new house in the year 1800, in which he lived until his death, Aug. 31, 1837. His wife died Sept. 30, 1829. Tradition says Philip Hart was a soldier of the Revolution, 1776. Mr. Alfred T. White of 130 Water street, New York City, residence, Brooklyn, N. Stephen[4] Hart (Richard[3], Richard[2], Nicholas[1]), born in Little Compton, R. I., Aug. 2, 1712, youngest son of Richard, Jr., and Amy (Gibbs) Hart; married at Little Compton, R. I., by Job Almy, justice, May 6, 1736, Sarah Taber, born May 6, 1716, daughter of John and Susanna (———) Taber. Her father, John Taber, was son of Philip, Jr., and Mary (Cooke) Taber, who was son of Philip and Lydia (Masters) Taber.

The above Mary Cooke was a daughter of John and Sarah (Warren) Cooke, who were on the Mayflower; Sarah Warren was daughter of Richard and (———) Warren, who came over and landed at Plymouth, Mass., Dec. 11, 1620, on the Mayflower. This ancestry of Sarah Taber was furnished by George T. Hart of 322 Broadway street, Providence, R. I.; his number is 755. Stephen and Sarah (Taber) Hart leave 424 descendants of the Mayflower, up to the year 1900.

Mr. Hart resided at Little Compton, R. I., a farmer. He died Sept. 16, 1778, and his widow died July 16, 1792.

Asa Brownson, June 13, 1853, Lydia Pierce, born Sept. 12, 1828, in Rehoboth, Mass., daughter of Jabez M. and Mary (Kelton) Pierce.

Mr. Hart resides at 289 Belmont street, Fall River, Mass., and is treasurer of the Union Savings bank and a member of the State Board of Lunacy and Charity. Mr. Hart presided at the observances of Firemen's Memorial Day in Fall River, June 12, 1902, and a Boston paper had this to say of the affair in its issue of June 14: "The observance of Firemen's Memorial Sunday passed off very successfully and will be remembered as the most largely attended for years. At least 200 graves were decorated, and such was the unexpected abundance of flowers for the firemen's use that enough pieces remained after the graves had been visited to enable the decorators to beautify about two dozen soldiers' graves. The procession started at one o'clock prompt at the central engine house and moved along the streets in the centre of the city to the burial grounds, under command of Chief Davol, of the active department, followed by President Thomas H. Greene of the Fall River Veteran Firemen's association, and Vice-President William A. Carman of the Defiance Firemen's association. The permanent and call men of the active fire department headed the line, followed by the two veteran associations. At the rear were carriages containing the officers of the day, members of the city government, members of the ladies' auxiliaries of this city and New Bedford, and disabled veterans.

"The programme was opened by the playing of 'Nearer, My God, to Thee,' by St. Mary's band, and Rev. George F. Maguire, the chaplain, then delivered the invocation. Introductory remarks followed by A. G. Hart, president of the day. Mr. Hart then presented Mayor George Grime, who, he said, had come here as a poor boy and was now chief executive of the city. At the conclusion of the mayor's remarks Rev. Dr. William J. Martin was presented. The next speaker was Judge John J. McDonough, and his introduction by Mr. Hart was of a most flattering character.

"Mr. Hart, whose portrait is given, is one of our best known citizens, having lived in Fall River all his life. Whether as a member of the common council, the legislature, or as agent of the State Board of Charity, or banker, he was always and is to-day the genial, pleasant, accommodating, and kindly gentleman. He was early in his career a member of the council and president of that body; was for four years sent to the legislature when Fall River was entitled to but three seats in that body; for a score of years worked in the old Marvel & Davol machine shop, now being sent into oblivion by the march of progress; was for a long time connected with the State Charity Board, where his disposition made him one of the best men ever employed in such a capacity; has since 1892 been treasurer of the Union Savings bank and by his name and influence brought that institution up from a position of insolvency to what is now considered one of the soundest and safest banking institutions of the state. Mr. Hart was in the olden days a follower of the hand machines. He belonged to Niagara Engine company for eight years and four months, and in that time did not miss a single monthly meeting, being foreman of the company when it was disbanded in 1866. He was the first president of the Fall River Veteran Firemen's association and served for five years continuously, and again did not miss a single meeting. As he retired from the latter office he was presented by his associates a splendid gold-headed cane, suitably inscribed, which Mr. Hart prizes highly. He has also been prominent in the religious life of the community, having been for more than twenty-seven years superintendent of the Sunday-school of the Second Baptist church and retiring only with great regret upon the part of those with whom he labored."

Children born in Chesterfield, N. H. :

1325. Mary, b. May 6, 1790.
1326. Sarah.

The James N. Arnold Vital Records say that Joseph Hart and Naomi Davis were married by Richard Waterman, justice, at Providence, R. I., Oct. 2, 1725. This Josiah was probably a brother of Nathaniel, Jr., and sons of Nathaniel Hart of Ipswich, Mass., 1636, who must have left Ipswich and went to Rhode Island. He had one child, John, born March 3, 1728, in Newport, R. I. This John married Margaret Lawlers of Bristol, R. I., Oct. 24, 1747, at the First Congregational church of Newport. No record of children.

THE ISAAC HART GENEALOGY.

In Hotten's History of Emigrants appears the following:

Embarked at Yarmouth, England, April 11, 1636, in the vessel Rose, with Captain Anderson, master, Richard Carver of Scratby, in county of Norfolk, England, husband, age 60 years, and Grace, his wife, age 40 years, and their two children, twins, Elizabeth and Susanna Carver, age 18 years, and three servants.

Isaac Hart, age 22 years.

Thomas Flege, age 21 years.

Marabel Underwood, age 20 years.

Richard Carver, on arriving in America, settled in Watertown, Mass. Isaac Hart is supposed to have been born in Scratby, England, about 1614; came to Watertown, Mass., 1636, age 22 years, and married, about 1650, Elizabeth Hutchins, daughter of Mrs. Anne Hutchins, who later married Adam Hawks of Lynn, Mass. I find nothing to show who Richard Carver's daughters married. Richard Carver died in 1642–'43. Isaac Hart bought one acre of land in Watertown, about 1642, on which he built a cottage, and he sold this land and buildings Feb. 3, 1656, and Oct. 4, 1656, he bought a farm of 270 acres of meadow land of Thomas Hutchinson in Reading, for which he paid 120 pounds. Recorded at Salem, Mass., book 14, page 263. This land was in what is now North Lynnfield. Dec. 31, 1673, Mr. Hart bought 500 acres of land in what is now Lynnfield, near North Reading, on which he resided until his death, Feb. 10, 1699. Ebenezer Parsons of Lynnfield Centre, Mass., a descendant, has the original deed of Isaac Hart's farm, kept in a glass case. Isaac Hart was a soldier in Captain Gardner's company, King Phillip's war, Feb. 29, to Nov., 1675–'76. The following is a partial sketch of his will, which was probated Feb. 19, 1699–1700: "I give and bequeath to my son, Thomas Hart, three acres of land, &c. I give to my son, John Hart, four acres, &c. I give to my son, Samuel, four acres, &c. I give to my son, Adam, four acres, &c., and I give to my two daughters, Elizabeth Winborn, and Deborah Proctor, twelve Pound Each at my death, and I appoint my son, Thomas Hart, Executor of this my last will and testament, date Feb. 6, 1699.

"Signed, his ISAAC × HART." mark.

Recorded at Salem, Mass., book 307, page 65.

Children born in Reading, Mass. (Vital Records):

1327. Elizabeth, b. Dec. 11, 1651; m. in Malden, Mass., April 11, 1667, John Rossiter Winborn of Malden, a preacher. Possibly a son of William Winborn of Boston, Mass.
1328. Deborah; m. Feb. 15, 1673, Benjamin Proctor of Ipswich, Mass., b. 1651, son of John and Martha Proctor, who came from London, England, to Ipswich, Mass., in 1632.
1329. Thomas; d. March 8, 1730–'31; unmarried.
1330. John.
1331. Samuel, b. Feb. 9, 1656.
1332. Adam, b. April 4, 1666.

The following was taken from the Lynn, Mass., History: "The alarm of witchcraft commenced in Feb., 1692, in the house of Rev. Samuel Parris of Salem, Mass. An Indian girl named Tituba and five others were hanged. Elizabeth Hart was arraigned and sent to Boston, May 18, 1692, where she was imprisoned until December, nearly seven months. She was an old lady, the wife of Isaac Hart. Thomas Hart, a son of Elizabeth Hart, in a petition to the court Oct. 19, says she has been in prison ever since May for imputed witchcraft, and prays to be released. The petition shews that Elizabeth Hart, mother of the petitioner, was taken into custody the latter part of May last, and ever since confined in a Boston prison for witchcraft."

The testimony against Elizabeth Hart was as follows:

"The deposition of Mary Wolcott, who testified and saith that on the 13th of May, 1692, I saw the apparition of Goody Hart, who hurt me much by pinching and choking of me and urged me grievously to set my hand to her book, and several other times she has tormented me, ready to tear body in pieces."

The old lady after passing through the torments of those Satanic fiends lived until Nov. 28, 1700, and Isaac Hart died Feb. 10, 1699. No head stones mark their graves.

Thomas Hart, oldest son of Isaac and Elizabeth (——) Hart, was undoubtedly a bachelor. He made his will Feb. 11, 1729–'30, and this is a partial sketch of it: "I give to my Brother, Samuel Hart, all of my Personal Estate. Item, I give to my Nephue Samuel Hart ye son of my Brother Samuel 6 acres of medow-ground in Lynn, Mass. Item, I give to my Brother Samuel Hart and his wife Sarah all of my Real Estate in Lynn, Mass., to be held in Trust by them, until their son Jonathan Hart who is my Nephue and heir shall come to full age of twenty-one years, and if ye said Jonathan Hart die without Issue, Then my will is that said farm & Real Estate shall Divert to my Nephue John Hart ye son of my Brother Samuel, and so descending in his line from generation to generation. But if John Hart die without Issue, I then will that my name sake Thomas Hart ye son of my Nephue Samuel Hart, Jr., shall come into possession of my farm & Real Estate; the same after him and his heirs at Law forever descending in his line and I appoint my said Brother Samuel Hart Executor of this my last will and testament.

"Signed, THOMAS $\underset{\text{mark}}{\overset{\text{his}}{\times}}$ HART."

Probated March 30, 1730–'31, book 319, pages 189, 190, 191, 192, and recorded at Salem, Mass. He died March 8, 1731.

1331.

Captain Samuel[2] Hart (Isaac[1]), born in Lynnfield, Mass., February 9, 1656, son of Isaac and Elizabeth (Hutchins) Hart; married Sarah Endicott, a reputed niece of Governor John Endicott.

Mr. Hart resided in what is now Lynnfield, Mass., and was a sea captain from the age of 16 to 60 years. After 1716 he left the sea and remained at home on his farm in Lynnfield. On one of his voyages he received from the Grand Turk a silver cup and other trinkets.

The following traditional story is told by his descendants, as handed down (from Ebenezer Parsons of Lynnfield Center, Mass.): "He said as he was lying awake one night in his cabin a woman entered, having in one hand a lighted candle and in the other an hour-glass. He looked at the hour-glass and saw that the sands were almost run, and thought it meant he should die with the running of the last sands. But as the last sands were run the woman turned the hour-glass and vanished. He then concluded that his life was half spent and voted to himself the time, but would never tell his family when this occurred. At the age of sixty years he ceased going to sea; on a certain night before retiring his family noticed that he remained longer than was usual at his devotions, and in the morning he was found dead in bed."

Captain Samuel Hart died Dec. 30, 1730. No record of his wife's death.

Children born in Lynn, now Lynnfield, Mass.:

1333. Elizabeth, b. Nov. 16, 1686; m. Samuel Potter, April 1, 1709, and resided at Lynn, Mass.

Mr. Hart resided in Lynn, and about 1752 removed to Lunenburg, Mass., as shown by deeds thus: "I, Joseph Eaton of Lynn, Mass., Gentleman, For 250 Pounds Paid by Samuel Hart of Lynn, yeoman, Sell land lying in Lunenburg, county of Worcester, Mass., 50 acres, dated 7th day of November, 1752. Signed Joseph Eaton."

Recorded at Worcester, Mass., book 38, page 531.

Another deed: "I, Joseph Eaton of Lynn, Mass, for 25 Pounds Paid by Samuel Hart, Jr., the son of Samuel Hart and his wife Hepsibar Hart, of Lynn, Mass, land in Narragansett Township, county of Worcester, Mass. Dated 5th day of August, 1754. Signed, Joseph Eaton."

Recorded at Worcester, Mass., book 40, page 83.

Administration of Samuel Hart's estate, Lunenburg, Mass., was granted to Joseph Eaton of Lynn, Mass. He was appointed by Hepsibar Hart, widow of Samuel Hart, date Dec. 28, 1758. Recorded at Worcester, Mass., in case 27,614, series A.

Thomas Norton Hart.

England stock, his ancestors residing in Lynnfield, Mass., including the first ancestor, Isaac Hart, who settled there in 1656. His mother's father, Maj. John Norton of Royalston, Mass., fought in the Revolution of 1776.

"Mr. Hart attended the Bowdoin, Me., college, came to Boston in 1842 and was employed by Wheelock Pratt & Co., dry goods dealers, and two years later by Philip A. Lock Co., hat dealers; about 1860 he founded the hat store of Hart, Taylor & Co., and in 1880 became president of the Mount Vernon National bank, of which he is still the head.

"Mr. Hart was chosen to the common council in Boston the years 1879-'81, to the board of alderman in 1882-'86, and as mayor of Boston, 1889-'90 and 1900-'01, receiving the largest vote acorded any Republican mayor up to that time.

"In 1891 his qualities won the appreciation of the National government and he was appointed by President Harrison postmaster of Boston, which position he held until the Democratic administration. He was well liked by all parties during his term; was courteous, genial, and efficient in all the relations of life, with clear and quick perceptions, and is capable of any office in the United States."

Carl W. Emst is a journalist and writer. See catalogue of Boston Public Library, Copley square.

Jonathan[8] Hart (Samuel[2], Isaac[1]), born in Lynnfield, Mass., Nov. 2, 1710, fourth son of Capt. Samuel and Sarah (Endicott) Hart; married in 1735 Mercy Hawks.

Mr. Hart resided in Lynn and Lynnfield, Mass., and the following is found among Essex Institute collections, at Salem, Mass., book 7, page 248: "Mr. Jonathan Hart went from Lynnfield, Mass., about the year 1760, to Maugerville, Sunbry, county, New Brunswick, with four sons, Thomas, John, Samuel, and Aaron Hart. Information given by Eli Upton of Danvers, Mass., who was born 1749, died 1849."

This Jonathan Hart owned land and tenements in Lynn, Mass., at the time he went to Maugerville, N. B., which were sold by Thomas Hart of Lynn, Mass., June 20, 1768, as shown by deed recorded at Salem, Mass., book 125, page 159. The above makes Jonathan Hart's family appear thus:

1643. Jonathan, Jr., d. of a fever June 10, 1756, at Lake George, in New York state. Probably a Colonial soldier.

1644. Thomas, who returned from Maugerville, N. B., and sold the lands in Lynn, as above.

1645. John, went to Maugerville, N. B.

1646. Samuel, went to Maugerville, N. B., and probably remained there.

1647. Aaron, who probably returned to Newmarket, N. H., and was a soldier in War of Revolution; is on pay-roll, Aug. 31, 1779, Colonel Moor's regiment. He received £40 payment for going to the defense of Rhode Island, as shown by New Hampshire State Papers, book 16, page 765. He next appears in the town of Cornish, York county, Me. "At a court held at Waterborough, York county, Me., Aug. 24, 1795, administration of estate of Aaron Hart, late of Cornish, Me., mariner and cooper, who d. Jan. 1795, was granted to Betsy, or Elizabeth, Hart, of Cornish, Me., widow of Aaron Hart, and before 1796 she married Isaac Gray of Cornish, Me." Probate court record at Alfred, Me., book 17, page 88.

1648. Abigail, b. in 1743; m. at Danvers, Mass., Aug. 20, 1764, Amos Smith of Danvers, where they lived for a time. They afterwards settled in Lynnfield, Mass. She d. April 28, 1828, age 85 years.

Children:

Edward[5] Hart (Col. John[4], Samuel[3], Thomas[2], Thomas[1]), born in Newington, N. H., about 1744, seventh son of Col. John and Sarah Savell (Cutt) Hart; married May 27, 1768, Elizabeth Callender, daughter of Joseph Callender of Boston, Mass., a baker.

Mr. Hart resided in Portsmouth, N. H.; he probably went to Boston and learned the baker's trade of Joseph Callender. He then set up a baker shop in Portsmouth, which he carried on for several years. At that day wheeled carriages were scarce, and the hot bread was carried in large panniers and placed on a horse's back behind the driver; the customers had to be on a sharp lookout as there was no dismounting.

Mr. Hart built himself a nice set of buildings in 1780 at what has since been called the Pickering mansion on Vaughn street, where he resided several years. He served as police officer and sheriff; signed the Association Test, and his name is on pay-roll as a soldier of the Revolutionary war, 1777. He died Oct. 18, 1825, age 81 years; his wife died Sept. 23, 1804, age 57 years.

Mr. James H. Adams of Seymour, Conn., forwarded me the following records which were presented to Mrs. Sarah Savell (Hart) Adams, by Samuel Larkin of Portsmouth, N. H. This was probably Edward Hart's Bible, copied thus:

THE JAMES HART GENEALOGY.

Tradition says James Hart was stolen in Ireland, at the age of four years, by an aunt, and brought to America. He was born in the north of Ireland, and was a Scotch-Irish Protestant. It is not known that he had brothers. He first appears as living in Leicester, Mass., the year 1734, and paid £140 for land bought of John Chandler, Jr., of Leicester. James Hart deeded land to his son, John Hart, the 5th day of January, 1755. He married Mary (maiden name unknown). The section of Leicester where he lived was annexed to Worcester and called South Worcester in 1773; was changed to Ward in 1776, and about 1836 was changed to Auburn, Mass. No record of their deaths. He had a second wife, Margaret Caltron of Sudbury, Mass., whom he married at Leicester, Nov. 21, 1742.

THE AVERY HART GENEALOGY.

During the fall of 1899 I went to St. George, Me., and collected records of Avery Hart, an Englishman, who settled at Vinalhaven, an island in the Penobscot bay, Maine. Avery Hart changed from there to Terrymequam island, where he sold a hundred acres of land on the westerly side of Sheepscott river for eight pounds sterling to James Brewer, July 13, 1764, as shown by deed recorded at Wiscasset, Me., book 4, page 13. Mr. Hart then went to Boothbay, Me., and sold out there April 1, 1768, for ten pounds, one hundred acres of land to Andrew McFarland, recorded at Wiscasset, Me., book 6, page 55. He then came to Cushing, Me., which is now the south shore of Tenant Harbor, St. George, where he remained until his death, about 1824 or '25. Mr. David W. Hart now resides on the same farm, and he can well remember his grandfather as being very old, with his eyes sunk far back in his head. Tradition says during the war with England in 1812–'15, an English war vessel came to the mouth of Tenant Harbor, and commenced firing into the harbor. Three schooners were lying in the harbor, and the English sent their small boats in and captured one of the schooners, which was loaded with bark. They hauled this out and set fire to it, but were compelled to flee for their lives, as John Andrews, Avery Hart, and a few others fired upon them from behind rocks. The English vessel then proceeded the same morning to Portland, Me., and on the way were met and captured by an American vessel. It is not known who Avery Hart married.
